GOING UP?

With the mercury climbing steadily toward the 90-mark and the humidity at 80 per cent—seven points above normal—Houston sweltered today in the second day of the latest heat-wave.

At 1 p. m. the mercury reached 87 degrees.

At 2 p. m. the mercury reached 88.

Only an occasional puff of wind out of the southwest kept the temperature from higher readings, but the weather man said that relief wouldn't last long.

A 20-year-old girl, whose identity was not immediately learned, was rescued from drowning today in the waters off Point Shirley, St. John's, after she was seized with cramps while swimming.

Charles W. Gashawden of Ristowville, Winthrop, a bus driver, swam to her rescue and brought her unconscious to shore.

Rev. Joseph P. McCall, of the Holy Trinity Church, St. John's, who administered the sacraments, said the girl, who was 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighed 120 pounds and had blonde hair, was helped revive her after 20 minutes work.

When revived, the girl thanked the bus driver and priest and was taken to the St. John's hospital, where a girl friend without making her identity known.

Wage, Hour Bill Battle Fades as House Acts

Washington, Aug. 5 (INS)—The minimum wage and maximum hours program today was assured of Congressional enactment.

Major opposition apparently crumbled as the House Labor committee approved a revision of the Black-Canary wage-hour bill. Already passed by the Senate, this measure was said to satisfy the administration and organized labor.

The House committee met the demands of organized labor for protection of collective bargaining by adopting amendments submitted by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

One split with the Senate was threatened when the committee struck out the Wheeler-Johnson anti-child labor rider adopted by the Senate, and restored the original anti-child labor provisions recommended by the Senate Labor committee.

Plan to Plug Tax Leaks Given To Congress

Washington, Aug. 5 (INS)—An eight-point legislative program to close tax loopholes was recommended to Congress today by a House report by the Senate-House tax investigating committee.

While the Treasury supplied no estimate of revenue increase if the program becomes law, members of the committee said "many millions" would be gained.

POWERS OF BOARD CUT

Chairman Mary T. Norton (D.) of New York of the House Labor committee declared that amendments voted by the committee greatly restrict the powers of the five-man board created under the new law to administer the law.

The committee overwhelmingly passed the Wood House amendments to permit the board to cut the work week to 35 hours and boost minimum wages to 75 cents.

Major changes in the Senate bill approved by the House committee would have the measure—

1—Include local retail stores, except outside salesman, subject to decision of board and courts that they are within scope of congressional legislation.

2—Strike out "graveyard" shifts of factories by discouraging operation of plants between midnight and 5 a. m.

3—Place all workers under act under civil service.

4—Permit the board in fixing wages to consider difference in unit costs caused by local conditions. This was sponsored by southern members.

5—Allow the President to put foreign imports on quotas or boost tariffs, if the wage-hour law places American producers at a disadvantage.

6—Require board hearings to be held in open employment agencies, provide a 30-day lapse in extension orders, and require ample notice of hearings.

EQUALITY OF SEXES

7—Prohibit discrimination between sexes in fixing wages and hours.

8—Eliminate provisions of Senate bill contrived by organized labor to repeal effective provisions of Walsh-Healey government contracting wage-hour law.

9—Organized labor won three amendments, designed to prevent the fixing of wages and hours by government edict at the expense of collective bargaining.

One would prohibit the board from establishing wage and hour uniform collective bargaining agreements do not cover a substantial portion of workers. Another would make wage-hour agreements between employers and unions prima facie evidence of an appropriate minimum wage and maximum work week. A third would prohibit wage-hour orders below prevailing conditions in a community.

The point committee passed over until next session some of the problems laid before it by President Roosevelt. But the report calls for far-reaching changes in the federal tax structure.

Rep. Dingworth (D.) of North Carolina, chairman of the committee, and Senator Harrison (D.) of Missouri, vice-chairman, submitted the report to Congress. North Democrats and Republican members of the investigating committee, except Senator King (D.) of Utah, who was ill during the hearings, signed the report.

The eight-point program follows:

1. Drastically revised domestic personal holding company law, denying many present deductions, including restriction on deductions for charitable gifts. House tax rate, by 8 to 48 per cent, to 48 to 60 per cent, on undistributed net income.

VACAT LOSSES "OUT"

2. Double the deductions for operation of yachts and country estates by personal holding company law. Provisions would not apply to farms or racing stables where more than 20 per cent of gross earnings come from such operations.

3. Strikes blow at radio entertainers, who may and others who incorporate themselves to reduce taxes, virtually removing present privilege.

4. Requires nonresident alien to pay withholding tax on American earnings up to $20,000 a year, the present law, but if over that to file personal income tax returns and pay surtax up to 100 per cent.

5. Strikes blow at foreigners who have made huge sums in investments here and at rich American women who marry foreigners.

CUTS DEDUCTIONS

6. Reduces artificial deductions for losses from sales of exchange of property between individual and his partner's corporation.

7. Reduces artificial deductions for interest and business expenses, such as where individuals were indebted to each other or corporations are indebted to chief stockholders.

8. Repeals $100 exemption for trusts in making tax returns. Said to be of little practical solution. This question is to be studied further.

9. Repeals law on foreign partnership holding countries so as eventually to abolish them. Makes income taxable to American shareholders as individuals.

"HOAX" BABY CASE PRINCIPALS

His Real Parents Reunited With "Hoax Baby"

International News Photograph Service

Foster Parents Fight for Boy They Brought Up

Donald Horst, brought up as "son" of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst, is held by John Regan, alibi for his real father, while Regan's common law wife, the real mother, looks on. Police say the Regans admit arranging to have the boy "kidnaped" by Fred Eweri, a chauffeur, shown in inset. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst, foster parents of Donald, are shown as they appeared in the office of the state's attorney, seeking return of the child.

MOTHERS FIGHTING FOR "HOAX BABY"

Chicago, Aug. 5 (INS)—Two splits of "parent" today prepared for a legal fight to decide the strange tangle of the birth and custody of bewildered little Donald Horst, "kidnaped" by his blood mother while at play on a sand pile in the garden of his home.

As the court battle began to shape itself the dark haired 30-month old boy looked out from St. Vincent's Orphanage on a world suddenly gone topsy-turvy and cried his name.

She is Mrs. Martha Horst, the birth mother from whom he was snatched last Tuesday in what at first appeared to be a genuine kidnapping for ransom.

Mr. and Mrs. John Regan, the child's real parents, claim the boy and promised in fight for his custody. The well-to-do foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst, have obtained an attorney to begin legal proceedings at once.

Regan and his wife turned the child over to Mrs. Horst's office, admitting they had taken the child from Mrs. Horst. No kidnapping complaint has been issued and there will be no prosecution. It was announced by Robert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney.

Taken from both the weeping woman who claimed him as the father, Donald was placed in the orphanage as the ward of the state until the civil courts decide whether he is to be awarded to his real parents or the Horsts.

He had feared him and partly said he was his father's son. The unmarried Regan consented to give up Donald and the boy was taken into the Horst home. In the meantime, the Regans had been searching two years for their son.

Ten days ago they learned he had been entrusted to the Horsts. They said, and decided to take the boy for force because they feared his foster parents would refuse to relinquish him.

TELLS HER STORY

Lois Regan told Crowley: "Even at the very last, after we had learned where the baby was and had made our plans to get him, we almost changed our minds as we saw him playing happily in the sand pile at the Horst home."

"I'm sure to both of us that maybe—just maybe—it might be better for the boy to let him stay there, since he plainly had a finer home than ours. We almost turned back. But not quite. For the desire to have our boy back came back to me full force—and we watched him grow."

Until Mrs. Regan told her story, the boy's foster mother had insisted she had no knowledge of the boy. She finally admitted he was not her son and she would not have him.

The boy's mother still has to obtain a divorce before she can be married to Regan, she said.

"Until now I have not been financially able to bring a divorce action against the husband who left me long ago. The money for this was what I wanted to use to get the divorce. But now I am assured that it will not take long to get the divorce. Then we will be married and we'll have a proper home for our son."

Mr. Regan insisted that neither she nor her husband had become a demand for the boy from the Horst home. Mrs. Horst reported that someone phoned immediately after the kidnapping and set $5000 as the price for returning the boy to his mother.

ICKES ASKS RULE OF HOUSING

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—Secretary Ickes made a formal bid today for administrative control of the proposed new Federal housing program.

He told the House Banking committee that administration of the Wagner Housing bill should be placed under jurisdiction of the Interior Department because of the department's experience with low cost housing.

"We either ought to fish or not fish," Ickes said, "with regard to reorganizing the executive department of the government."

Ickes said the proposal in the bill pending in the Senate to have a three-man, independent body administer the bill just doesn't make sense to me.

British Fear Of Italy Seen In Palestine

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Zionist World Congress met today over a motion that would authorize the incoming Zionist executive to negotiate with the British government on the proposed Palestine partition.

The motion, drawn up by President Chaim Weizmann yesterday afternoon, led to group debates that lasted until early today when an informal poll of the delegates indicated a slight majority in favor of the measure.

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 5 (INS)—That Britain's fear of growing Italian influence in the Mediterranean lay behind her proposal to partition Palestine was the view expressed in well-informed quarters today as the world Zionist congress resumed dedicated over the partition issue.

Due to Italian ambitions in the Mediterranean, observers said, Britain was anxious to appease the Arabs, thereby securing quiet in the Holy Land and eradicating Italian influence in Palestine, which could have been used as an Italian base for operations in the Near East.

DELAYS SESSION

Today's congress session was delayed several hours while Labor Zionists, numbering 220 of the 480 delegates, sought to bring about unanimity on the partition question.

Labor leaders said they feel responsible, since their faction represents 45 per cent of the congress.

The issue is complicated by the stand of minority labor Zionists, who are veterans from Palestine, who claim that the Congress lacks the main hope of Zionism, they insist. Another Congress called after special elections on the partition problem.

Majority labor leaders, on the other hand, argue that the delegates have long been divided in the partition question, therefore Congress has the power and the duty to take a stand.

AMERICAN'S SPLIT

The American delegates are similarly split, although a caucus decided that the majority approves the partition plan. The group representing the Zionist Union of the United States, the Jewish National Fund and the Jewish Agency, their president, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, urge them to accept the partition plan.

The Congress took preliminary action after electing Menachem Ussishkin, head of the Jewish National Fund, and an enemy of the plan, as their chairman and hearing their president, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, urge them to accept the partition plan.

USSISHKIN REPLIES

Ussishkin, replying to Dr. Weizmann, contended the present proposal, splitting the Holy Land into a Jewish state and an Arab state, was a British conceit with an offer made by the British government to give the Jews territory in British Uganda or East Africa.

The present offer, he said, was even worse than the previous one because the latter did not involve renunciation of any part of Palestine whereas the former involved renunciation by the Jews of four-fifths of their holdings in the Holy Land.

CONDITIONAL OFFER

"When the Jews want to Babylon they must be the waters of Babylon and never forget Jerusalem. They will never under present conditions allow anybody sitting in the banks of the river Thames to cut Palestine in three parts. The proposal to dismember Palestine is a crime."

CONGRESSIONAL OFFER

"This matter has been reduced to the issue of whether or not Congress is to maintain its legislative functions," Ussishkin asserted.

Yesterday in a telephone message to Chairman Marvin Jones (D-Tex.) of the House agriculture committee.

LEAGUE 'NOT SATISFIED' With British Plan

Geneva, Aug. 5 (AP)—William G. A. Orosby-Gore, British colonial secretary, left here today after five and a half days of cross-examination by the League of Nations mandate commission on Great Britain's plan to partition Palestine.

The terms of the final questioning seemed to indicate that the commission was not convinced by Britain's arguments that the Holy Land must be partitioned into a British mandate territory and an Arab Jewish state.

SUGAR BLOC TO DEFY "VETO"

Washington, Aug. 5 (INS)—The breach between Congress and the administration over the controversial sugar bill was widened today when House sugar bloc voted to defy President Roosevelt's threat to veto the measure if restrictions on Hawaiian and Puerto Rican refined sugar are approved.

Rep. Clifton (D-Va.), emerged from a session attended by approximately fifty House members and three Senators with the announcement that the group would "defy" the veto.

"This matter has been reduced to the issue of whether or not Congress is to maintain its legislative functions," Ussishkin asserted.

MUSIC

Fete Opening TONIGHT

BERKSHIRES LURE CROWDS

By RUTH MARSTERS

Stockbridge, Aug. 5.—A soft summer zephyr, akin to the threnody of strings and wood wind in Beethoven's "Pastoral" Symphony to be played here tonight, is billowing the huge canopy on lush Tanglewood lawns.

Thousands of music lovers are streaming across the gift estate of Mrs. Graham Brooks today, ready for the fourth annual Berkshire Symphonic Festival.

One hundred musicians, the Boston Symphony Orchestra and its exceptional conductor, Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, sweep through a last rehearsal of a diffuse program which is to inaugurate, hopefully, the Salzburg of America.

Dr. Koussevitzky has chosen to open with an all-Berksheve program which will include the Leontine Overture No. 2 and the Fifth and Sixth Symphonies.

TO HONOR GERHWIN

Other and more varied programs to be offered during the five weeks will be sprinkled with such as the Mozart Symphony No. 40, the Second Suite from Javert, "Daphne and Chloe," Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony; Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony and the ballet from "Romeo and Juliet."

With Stravinsky's "The Rite of Spring" and the Cesar Franck Symphony in A minor, Professor Edward Burlingame Hill's "Symphony for String Orchestra" will also be performed. The latter is the single American composition to be heard at this year's festival.

The conductor has announced that he would add a composition by the late George Gerhwin to Sunday's program in memory of that composer.

The second week of the festival will open with an all-Wagner program on Thursday, August 12.

Haydn's Symphony No. 13 in G major, Schubert's Seventh Symphony and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" Suite will comprise Saturday's program of that week.

The closing concert, to be devoted to Brahms, will include the Academic Festival Overture and the First and Third Symphonies.

Coincident, naturally, with the Berkshire Symphonic Festival is the week of professional Fine Arts disciplines to a site of fertile response.

In the quiet Berkshire Playhouse, Stockbridge, Ted Shawn and his gentle male dancers are presenting a packet of "nature-demonstrations" which studiously avoid the American dance, all to be seen on the two week-end of the festival.

On the hundred week days Shawn invites you to dip down at his Jacob's Pillow farm. There he offers, without conflicting with the festival, interpretations ranging from historic American themes to something called "music visualization" which Mr. Shawn says has a great deal to do with the intrinsic movement of Bach, Brahms and MacDowell.

This is the fifth season Shawn and his company have given programs at Jacob's Pillow, and the second time to be presented at the Playhouse.

The conventional menu at the Playhouse, presided by Director William Miles, offers a new play "Major Manton" by a father and son writing team of Robert Goodman and John Eversett Goodman.

Players include Alexander Kirkland and Edith Barrett, familiar names to Berkshire audiences.

MOTHER, NEW BABY DEAD; THESE FIVE COMFORT DAD

Grief weighs heavily on this family circle today, as the children's mother, Mrs. Veronica Roy of East Saratoga street, East Boston, lies dead at City Hospital. Also dead is a baby, born to her yesterday. Sadly trying to comfort her bereaved dad, Leon Roy, are Veronica, three, Alfred, 11, Edward, seven, Claire, five, and baby Rita. The father, rushed to the hospital by police who took him from a tug in the harbor, reached Mrs. Roy's side while she was still alive, vainly hoping to save her by giving blood for a transfusion.

FATHER Loses Death RACE

WIFE, NEW-BORN BABY DIE

An East Boston man won a race with death last night, but today death cheated him and took away the prizes in the race—the man's wife and a newborn baby boy.

Leon Roy, of Saratoga street, East Boston, was downed by the harbor on the tugboat Thor when his wife, Veronica, was taken to East Boston Relief Hospital.

A casual observer was necessary to save the child and doctors were unable to stop hemorrhages that followed.

Mrs. Roy was transferred to City Hospital. Police were told to get her husband for a transfusion. The race began.

The tugboat company for which Roy works impressed its fastest craft, the Area, into service. Roy was transferred from the Thor and sped to Lewis wharf.

Three patrolmen, Edward Fitzpatrick and Walter Butterworth were waiting in a police cruising car.

With the siren screaming, the police car cut through downtown streets and up Harrison avenue to City Hospital at a mile a minute pace.

REACHES REVERSE
Meanwhile Mrs. Roy had been given blood from a professional donor. Roy got her bedside while she was still comatose.

Doctors decided not to have another transfusion for the same being, and Roy stood by. As the hours wore by, however, she began to sink. The new baby boy was in extremely weak condition.

At halfpast four this morning the mother died. Two and a half hours later the baby passed away. Mrs. Roy with the mother of five small children, Rita, one, Veronica, 3, Claire, 5, Edward 7, and Alfred, 11.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at the site of the Sea Church, while burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

FORE RIVER BID 20 LOWEST

Washington, Aug. 5 (INS)—Bids were being considered by the navy today for construction of four of the eight new destroyers to be constructed in the year's program in private yards.

The ship from Works of Bath, Mo., submitted the lowest bid of $6,200,000 for the one destroyer to be delivered to 30 months with an alternate bid of $3,814,000 taking into consideration adjustment for labor and material cost.

The second lowest bid was submitted by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp. of Quincy, Mass. $6,230,000 for the destroyer, alternate bid $3,860,000.

Bath bid $6,338,000 each for two destroyers, alternate bid $3,975,000 and Bethlehem's $5,633,000 each, alternate $3,325,000.

These bids were about $200,000 higher than bids on destroyers constructed last year.

Fight Men's Scant Suits At Hampton

Hampton Beach, N. H., Aug. 5 (AP)—A war on men's scanties has been declared by the Beach Property Owners' Protective Association.

Worthy cottage owners asserted the prevalence of men in brief trunks was "lowering the standard of white people in this little better than ramshackle."

Edson A. Gardner of Sunnyside, Mass., charged men were "bathing in restaurants almost naked" and women cottagers agreed as far as brevity of apparel was concerned "men bathers were worse than women."

Selections were added to enforce an ordinance requiring bathers to wear more ample covering along the boulevard and in restaurants.

'SCOLLAY SQ. SCOTCH PICNIC' FAILS AS ALIBI

When the weather is warm, Edward J. Scollay, assistant manager of the Scollay Square Scotch Society, gets into more darts, trouble.

"I can't go to the picnic if I'm in jail, can I?" "What has that to do with the matter of your case?"

"I am a member of that great fraternalism known to the world as the Scollay Square Scotch Society, Your Honor."

"The last place for you," said the court, "is the House of Correction, three months."

Scollay appeared and was held in $200 for the deprivation of superior court.

According to the complaint, Andrews beat his younger brother with a strap across the back, giving him six licks.

When George offered to show the court the marks Judge Hayden remarked that he believed him.

Andrews who pleaded not guilty, testified that he thought he had a right to whip his younger brother because he wouldn't go out to the pavement below. He is on the danger list at Cambridge hospital with a possible broken back and severe leg bone fracture.

"In my opinion," Judge Hayden said, "there are other and better ways of handling a child besides such drastic measures as these."

"As a matter of fact, I think the mother should handle the situation much better."

Mrs. Andrews testified that the alleged beating occurred July 29 Judge Hayden ordered the strap confiscated and gave Andrews a four months' suspended sentence in the House of Correction.

The father was ordered by the court to turn over his wages to his wife and was given six months in the House of Correction and a year's suspended sentence. He had pleaded not guilty.

Air Troubles Of Family In Court

The Andrews family of Teige street, Roxbury, aired their troubles in Roxbury Court today before Judge Albert P. Hayden.

When Andrews the father, was arraigned on a charge of non-support.

His son, Joseph, was charged with assault and battery on his younger brother, George, 15, as a result of a complaint brought by his mother, Mrs. Joe Andrews.

According to the complaint, Andrews beat his younger brother with a strap across the back, giving him six licks.

When George offered to show the court the marks Judge Hayden remarked that he believed him.

Andrews who pleaded not guilty, testified that he thought he had a right to whip his younger brother because he wouldn't go out to the pavement below. He is on the danger list at Cambridge hospital with a possible broken back and severe leg bone fracture.

"In my opinion," Judge Hayden said, "there are other and better ways of handling a child besides such drastic measures as these."

"As a matter of fact, I think the mother should handle the situation much better."

Mrs. Andrews testified that the alleged beating occurred July 29 Judge Hayden ordered the strap confiscated and gave Andrews a four months' suspended sentence in the House of Correction.

The father was ordered by the court to turn over his wages to his wife and was given six months in the House of Correction and a year's suspended sentence. He had pleaded not guilty.

Quinsigamond Folk Fight 'Joy' Plane

Worcester, Aug. 4.—With the announcement that the Lake Quinsigamond Commission had granted a license for a motor plane to establish a "joy-bus" base on the lake, a riot of protest went on today.

Vacationists, summer residents, boatmen, complained to both Worcester and Shrewsbury police and to the regular motor vehicles that they wouldn't stand for it. The permit, at present, calls for flying to begin on Saturday.

Mack Sennett Picks All-Time Film 'Greats'

New York, Aug. 5.—Ten moving-picture all-time "greats" are marked down in Mack Sennett's book of memories.

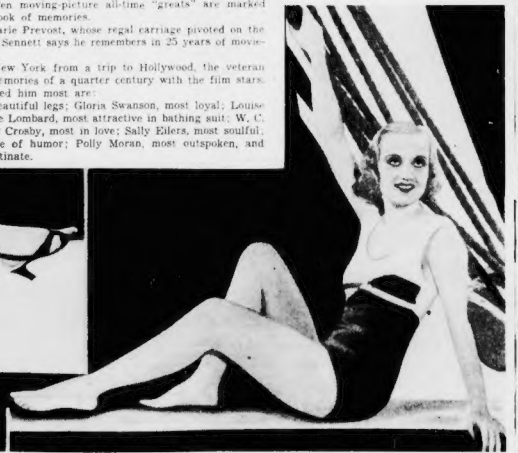

Leading that list is Marie Prevost, whose regal carriage pivoted on the most beautiful pair of legs Sennett says he remembers in 25 years of movie-making.

Today, returning to New York from a trip to Hollywood, the veteran Cinderella-maker stirred memories of a quarter century with the film stars. The ones who impressed him most are:

Marie Prevost, most beautiful legs; Gloria Swanson, most loyal; Louise Fazenda, best mixer; Carole Lombard, most attractive in bathing suit; W. C. Fields, best informed; Bing Crosby, most in love; Sally Eilers, most soulful; Mabel Normand, best sense of humor; Polly Moran, most outspoken; and Charlie Chaplin, most obstinate.

fixation of payments by the White Fund to the Codman Hill Construction Company.

RAR. CHAMBER HEADS
Warren is president of the Boston Bar Association and the White Fund is president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and a former assistant U. S. secretary of the Treasury.

The mayor also censured John I. Fitzgerald, City Council president and another member of the White Fund trustees, placing Fitzgerald in the same category with Wadsworth and Warren in the allegations of "back-passing."

He indicated he had clashed with them at a meeting of the trustees last Wednesday, because he said he had told them what he was now doing in the Finance Commission.

HITS "BUCK-PASSING"
Regarding Wadsworth and the other trustees, the mayor said: "It would be a nice idea if they were to take up their responsibility to me. I am not running away from mine."

"I'll accept my own responsibility. That's what I'm here for. But I now insist that they accept theirs."

As on two previous appearances this week before the Finance Commission, the mayor clashed repeatedly with members of the commission and with George H. Farnum, special counsel, who was pressing him under oath to answer questions.

SESSION IN UPROAR
The session opened with a clash between the mayor and Commissioner Joseph A. Scoppellone, when the former refused to let Scoppellone question him, saying he would answer only the questions of the Finance Commission.

There was an uproar as the mayor made his remarks with Scoppellone talking at the same time. The mayor's voice drowned out the commissioner's.

Farnum then took up testimony previously given by Wadsworth in which the latter had admitted that he had been in the White Fund to conduct its business operations.

Farnum—What is your answer to that?

"OUGHT TO DESIGN"
Mayor Mansfield—If that's Wadsworth's attitude, he might as well resign from the city. I told him that yesterday and he authorized me to make a statement which I will present to the commission later. I told Wadsworth and Warren yesterday that I would not accept the responsibility that they should accept. These hearings would throw upon me.

If they persist in thinking that, if that is their idea, they ought to resign. If it is the idea of Wadsworth and Warren that they can't accept the responsibility that they should accept, they might as well resign.

SILENT ON STATEMENT
Q—What does Wadsworth's statement say?
A—He said that he was questioned about that. It was made in private and is not subject to cross-examination. It is

DAICERS' JOBS REPELLED ON BOY PALS

Girls Who Catch Technicians in 'Romantic Ballet'

Hollywood, Aug. 5 (INS)—"Have you, a boy friend and who is he?" This is the first question Albertina Rasch, internationally famous actress of dance specialties, is asked by her "all romantic" ballet for the screen.

"Every dancer with her own room in the sum of the film is in the picture in assembling more than 100 of the most beautiful dancers she can find."

"It's perfectly simple," explains Rasch. "A girl, no matter how clever a technician she may be, must, for the screen, have in addition a definite personality. The girl who can act as a technician and who can also have the attraction necessary to attract an audience."

Mrs. Rasch is assembling several spectacular ballets for "Roxana," which William A. Wellman is producing from his own original stage play at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Nelson Eddy, Eleanor Powell, Frank Morgan, Rita Lind and Bruce Cabot are among the players.

"As a matter of fact," she adds, "the girls who are chosen for how much natural attractiveness they really have. For instance, one of our prettiest girls, Helene Carson, married an engineer."

Rasch is particularly attracted to the girl who is not only an engineer, a builder or a technician, but who is also a dancer. To attract her man, the girl must be a poet, a writer, a musician or an artist. Artists attract beauty and love light of personality in so doing. Literally-minded men, on the contrary, admire personality first and beauty as a secondary consideration.

A girl with the vivid personality of Joan Crawford would appeal more enthusiastically to the boy who is an engineer, a builder or a technician than to the girl who is a dancer.

Myrna Loy, who is equally deep of mind, is the actress of the film. Eleanor Powell is another in the class.

U. S. PROTECTS ELMON HELD

CITIZENS IN $50,000 AS ROBBERS

Shanghai, Aug. 5 (AP)—United States consular officials in China organized the entire American population tonight to guard their lives and get them out of possible danger if necessary, when the Chinese generalissimo, Chiang Kai-Shek, suddenly proclaimed:

"We will fight to the death."

It might be mentioned that the declared war brought these developments.

In Column of military Japan, new troops rolled north to bail a Chinese advance from behind China's capital.

In-Chiang Kai-Shek, leader of the Nationalist Government, flew to Kuling to tell the nation's educators that China will resist the Japanese advance "even though it means fighting head-on."

American missionaries recalling previous Japanese conquests feared Japanese domination of China would wipe out missionary and education work representing millions of dollars invested and years of the hardest toil.

Chinese residents' emergency committee is organizing 200,000 American troops. Similar committee in Shanghai is organizing 200,000 American troops. Similar committee in Shanghai is organizing 200,000 American troops.

James A. Elmon, brother of James A. Elmon, Jr., was held in $50,000 double entry, after pleading guilty in Suffolk superior court today to an eight-year-old robbery indictment.

The 32-year-old Elmon was arrested by police on the 13th of February. The indictment alleged robbery of a $200 payroll from Bush Lawson, cashier for a South End restaurant.

Before court Elmon had been harassed with questions at police headquarters. But he refused to answer any of them until he had been visited in various buildings in the past year. None of them was released.

He was also placed in a Lincoln prison for 15 days, where he was held in the Lincoln prison for 15 days, where he was held in the Lincoln prison for 15 days.

Hoover in Plea To Court Plan Foes
Los Angeles, Aug. 5 (AP)—Justice Department today urged annual sessions to force their support to the proposed plan.

Democratic or Republican who actively attacked President Hoover's proposed plan to reorganize the federal government.

The plan, which would reorganize the federal government, was proposed by the Justice Department.

Japanese Beat American Cameramen
Peking, Aug. 5 (AP)—American photographers were beaten over the head and pushed about by Japanese troops today to prevent them from taking pictures of troops marching in the conquered city.

Japanese news reel cameramen were permitted to take pictures without any Japanese being present. American cameramen, however, were not permitted to take pictures without Japanese being present.

Austria Dissolves Pro-Nazi Groups
Vienna, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Austrian government today ordered dissolution of four German organizations in Austria.

The organizations, which were active in promoting Nazi activities, were dissolved by the Austrian government.

Marblehead Making Preparations For Annual Race Week

By BETTY ALDEN

THIS YEAR, yachting experts predicted that the annual regatta week at Marblehead would serve as an anti-climax to the nautical pageant and international attention of the America's Cup Races at Newport. But the Newport regatta has been for the most part a gathering for the big fellows, in point of tonnage and footage. . . . The competition of the large J-class sloops drew a gallery of yachts from all over the Atlantic coast to Newport. . . . but, of necessity, they were boats of the large cruiser variety, which had ample living quarters and were fitted out for a one or two-week trip. . . .

The Marblehead regatta, on the other hand, will be at once, a merriment and carnival for the smaller boat yachtsmen who did not cruise to Newport. . . . but stayed at home to read avidly all the details of the cup races in the papers. . . .

As the days have progressed, however, and "Mike" Vanderbilt's Ranger seems to be so much the master of the situation, their interest has waned. . . . until now they are knee deep in preparations for Race Week at Marblehead with only a few old moments to discuss the cup races between orgies of regaling, painting and fitting sails to make all in readiness for the starting gun day after tomorrow. . . .

A visitor wishing to see Marblehead Bay, famed as the center of New England yachting, crowded with its usual quota of cruising and racing craft, would be disappointed this week. . . . for practically all the sailing boats which are not at Newport, have been hauled out in various boat yards to undergo last minute racing preparations. . . .

Reginald Foster, Jr., is supervising the polishing up of his Cuprice for the Massachusetts Bay Class races while Francis H. Cummings and Cynthia Haskell and her brothers are adding the extra touches which they hope will make their boats winners in the same class. . . . Donald C. Watson's Sunbeam, Lincoln Davis's Redette, Calhoun's racing craft and the Ernest B. Dane's 30 square meter yacht are all up on the ways being put into readiness. . . .

The Brutal Beasts, which give all the youngsters so much pleasure every summer. . . . and which were the kindergarten to which such famous skippers as Mr. Vanderbilt and Charles Francis Adams learned their first lessons in sailing. . . . are lined up like a row of soldiers. . . . because even the youngsters want their boats spic and span. . . . after hearing the older folks discussing all the niceties of refitting sails and polishing underbodies. . . .

Busy With Race Week Social Program
WHILE THE MEN are either actually working on the boats, or supervising preparations for the nautical end of Race Week, their wives are equally busy with plans for the social side of the regatta. . . . Hostesses are planning all sorts of entertainments. . . . and the big dinner dance at the Eastern Yacht Club, Thursday evening, August 12, threatens to be over-subscribed long before that date. . . .

One of the gayest affairs will be the large cocktail party which Mr. and Mrs. John Woodbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Plimpton are giving at the Woodbridges' home before the Eastern Yacht Club Race week dinner dance. . . . Among their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Damon (Elizabeth Wheeler) who are not racing their boat this year, but having a lot of fun sailing it for pleasure. . . . the Damons sailed with friends on the Eastern Yacht Club cruise to Buzzards Bay last week, and then had a day or two in Newport witnessing the beginning of the regatta. . . .

Others at the Woodbridge-Plimpton party will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Haskell, Jr. and Mrs. Paul Gring, George McQueston, Mrs. George E. Stephenson, Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert H. Speck, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. May, Miss Priscilla Damon, Miss Horne Robinson and Colonel Walter M. Pratt. . . .

Also Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Shingley, with their daughter, Betty, bride-to-be of Howard Wheeler. . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ridd, Richard Boardman, Jack Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hannon, Mr. and Mrs. William Candler, Edwidge, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seale, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hansel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knowlton, Charles Fabens, George Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Gray, Jr. . . .

Betsy Van Antwerp Honor Guest
THE PRESENCE of a popular soon-to-be married couple is sure to make a festive occasion out of any party. . . . so this evening's regular Thursday dinner dance at the Eastern Yacht Club will be equally as memorable to a good many North Shoreites as the big Race Week dance. . . . Mr. Thornton K. Lathrop is giving a party this evening for Betsy Van Antwerp and Lucius Beebe, who will be married day after tomorrow in Salem. . . . Besides the bride couple, Betsy's twin sister, Mimi, and the bridegroom's brother, David Beebe, will be there to share in the fun with a number of friends of the couple. . . .

Those who have been confused by the fact that Betsy and Mimi are twins, and hard to tell apart, and also that there are at least two Lucius Beebes extant, will have all their questions answered at the wedding. . . . for Betsy will be in her bridal gown while Mimi acts as her maid of honor. . . . and the New York Lucius Beebe, sartorially splendid author and columnist, will come up to Salem to attend the wedding so that everyone will learn to distinguish between the couple. . . .

The wedding will be in Grace Episcopal Church, Salem, at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a small reception afterwards. . . . in addition to the maid of honor and best man, the attendants will include four ushers. . . . Nathaniel B. Wales, Jr., of New York, and Leverett Britton, of Salem, will be bridesmaids. . . . The groom's attendants will be Mr. and Mrs. Devereux Barker, Jr., who joined Mr. Barker in New York this week to witness the races from yacht "Good Hope," will return to Marblehead Friday. . . . On the way to Newport the Good Hope visited a number of ports in Buzzards Bay on the Eastern Yacht Club cruise. . . .

Mr. Malcolm Bradley French, president of the Charlotte Chessman Club, is chairman of the committee for the fashion show which will be held at the Barley in West Falmouth, on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 24, for the benefit of the Children's Club. Working with Mrs. French on this committee are Mrs. William H. Danforth of Oyster Harbor, Mrs. Joseph B. McGowan of Cantonville, Mrs. Ralph R. Burdick of Oyster Harbor, Mrs. Charles H. Jones and Mrs. Harry W. Barrett of North Scituate, Mrs. Frank Bennett of Kennebunk, Mrs. M. P. E. Gregory and Mrs. Lyman P. Gutterman. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. HENRY I. MASON will open the home in Providence on Wednesday, August 18, for the 26th annual reunion of the Eastern Fidelity Association. All descendants of John and Mary (Widdowson) Mason are invited to attend. Following a luncheon meeting in the morning, there will be a basket luncheon and entertainment. Katherine Cunningham Gray, Boston socialite singer, will offer a variety of songs, accompanied by the piano by George Marshall Speck. . . .

A LITTLE SUNTAN O. K. BUT THAT'S ENOUGH

AN ATTRACTIVE SUNTAN is all very well—but enough is enough, so Eleanor Frothingham carries this colorful paradox to shield her from Old Sol's scorching rays, as she sails forth to a lawn fête on the North Shore. Miss Frothingham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frothingham, Jr., of Beverly Farms. . . .

Miss Belmont has chosen Miss Alice Holliman as her maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Elizabeth Harriman, Kathleen Harriman, Eugenia Davis, Barbara Robinson, Kate Goodby, Eleanor Walker, and Cornelia C. Bailey, sister of the bridegroom-to-be. . . .

Robert Bent Garden Folk To Wed Plan Shows
Miss F. Natalie Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. Richardson of Montclair, N. J., will become the bride of Robert Merrill Bent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Bent of Gardner, Mass., on Saturday, August 7. The Rev. Dr. W. S. Richardson will perform the ceremony at noon in First Baptist Church of Montclair. A breakfast will follow for the families at the bride's home. . . .

Miss Alma Bent, sister of the bridegroom, will be the only attendant, and Rudolph Bent will be the bride's best man. The bridesmaids will be the brides and the brides of the bride and the brides of the bride. . . .

Psoriasis Cause Is Unknown

Rich Food Vitamins Needed in Diet

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Lafayette Medical Director from New York, Formerly Commissioner of Health, New York City.

FEW other ailments are more disturbing than to suffer from some chronic inflammation of the skin. . . .

There is a disease which produces dry patches or crust-like white or silvery gray scales of the skin. It is a particularly annoying condition. I refer to what is known as "psoriasis." . . .

Psoriasis is always a chronic inflammation, often confused with eczema. Unlike eczema, it rarely itches and has no watery discharge from the sore spots. . . .

If the scale is removed, it reveals a smooth, shiny red surface. The area contains many spots of deeper red color, which bleed easily when touched. . . .

For years little was known about the actual cause of this disease. As a result of this, slight progress could be made in its treatment and cure. Although the actual cause is still unknown, many theories have been advanced. . . .

Those who have psoriasis are advised to include in the diet certain vitamins, especially vitamins A and D. Fat foods should be increased in amount, so exclude omitted from the diet. . . .

I have found little virtue in the indiscriminate use of salves and ointments, which are sometimes recommended for psoriasis. The only local applications which are prescribed by your doctor. . . .

Summer Salads

OUTDOOR SUPPERS

MUCH has been said on the subject of "Summer Salads," however, there are many other suggestions that we would like to pass along. . . .

We have brand new salads that are worthy of consideration. May we suggest that you try one of these for that luncheon or supper served out-of-doors? . . .

These are all of the type that can be prepared in advance—in the morning before the heat of the day has caused the ordinary salad to disintegrate during these warm days. . . .

AMERICAN CHEESE MOLD
1 pint fresh cooked or canned peas.
2 cups milk.
1 tablespoon flour.
1/2 lb. sharp American Cheese.
1 tablespoon gelatin.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 1/2 teaspoon cayenne.
1 cup whipping cream.
Drain all liquid from peas. Heat milk in pot of double boiler. . . .

RASPBERRY CHEESE SALAD
2 packages cream cheese.
1/2 cup mayonnaise.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
2 teaspoons sugar.
2 cups red raspberries.
1/2 cup whipping cream.
Cream the cheese until soft. Add half the mayonnaise, the lemon juice and sugar, and beat until smooth. . . .

Unfold and cut in slices; place on lettuce leaves and serve at once with a dressing made by whipping the cream. . . .

Breed-Vert Ceremony
Miss Gertrude Mary Vert whose engagement to Robert Thomson, third son of Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel B. Vert, was recently announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wade Vert of Madison, New Jersey, has chosen August 26 as the date for her wedding. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. John William Parks will officiate at the ceremony in St. Mark's Church in Madison. . . .

Miss Helen Vert will be her sister's only attendant and Nathaniel Thomson, brother of Cambridge, will be his brother's best man. . . .

Salmon and Cucumber Mold
1/2 cup sour cream.
1/2 cup cream.
1/2 cup mayonnaise.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon celery salt.
Dash black pepper.
1 tablespoon granulated gelatin.
3 tablespoons cold water.
1 1/2 tin red salmon.
1 small tin corn.
1 tablespoon capers or 2 tablespoons chopped sour pickles.
2 large ripe tomatoes.
Combine sour cream, lemon juice, capers, etc., with cream of tartar. . . .

FIRE, DEATH HALT AUTO DELIVERY IN AKRON, OHIO

Hazards of highway traffic took one life here and destroyed four new automobiles before they had ever set wheel to the ground. The picture, taken just outside Akron, O., shows results of a collision between the truck, at left, and the passenger car, at right. Both machines burst into flames, and the driver of the passenger car was burned to death. The blaze spread to the big trailer, turning it a four-car cargo. The truck driver leaped to safety.

THIS IS LIFE

By
Robert E. Rogers

My recent column about the Business and Professional Women's convention at Atlantic City with its strong and continuous emphasis on "equality" largely based on theory seems to have interested more of my readers than any recent column. At least, a number of letters have come into me supporting Miss Florence Burchman's long campaign in behalf of the unmarried self-supporting woman as compared with her married wife-to-be.

Obviously the spectacle of well-to-do women displaying themselves in illustrated advertising (presumably for pay) and that of an increasing number of well-to-do debutantes competing for hire with girls who have to work are keenly interesting women at large.

The day after I wrote the column the Business and Professional Women passed a resolution endorsing the "equal-rights" bill which is calculated to remove any protection which now exists in law for women married or unmarried. I was fortunately situated "thru" my wife, who made the headlines.

The following letter seems to me an interesting and spunky expression.

Here's a Spunky Expression
After a Young Girl's 'Gray Day'

"Once it was a while there comes a long spell of wet weather—gray day after gray day—until we grow utterly weary of it. Then presto! Right out of that same dull sky the sun suddenly appears, actually breaking out into expansive smiles as he sends down beams after beams of warmth and light—and hope. Somehow that is how I felt when I read your most encouraging article in the Boston American on Tuesday evening (July 27).

"I was just a young girl when that horrible 'votes for women' agitation was started. I had no more idea what it was all about than any happy-go-lucky child of my age, and I certainly never even thought to inquire. Grow-ups were always doing queer things, anyway.

"Then, one morning my dad told me not to start for school, since he wanted to take me to see a friend of his. That friend was the foreman of a factory. And so began one 'feminist' (?) 'votes-for-women' (?) 'we want equality' (?) 'man-baters' (?) 'career' (?) 'Yes that is how unfairly many male loving, business-bating women have to obey, not in all cases their dad, but what he perhaps represents—the circumstances and station in life that happens to fall to their lot.

Men Who Ride the Subway
Have No Idea of Problem

"Day after day as I dash for the subway my heart cries out at the unfairness of the way we working-class women are judged by the men we must rub elbows with. They read the articles by such women as you described so well—the aristocrats of feminism the women who DO NOT HAVE to work, and who for the sake of keeping themselves in the limelight, or getting a thrill, or even adding to their already adequate incomes—blazon abroad THEIR ideas of 'equality' and 'rights'.

"Who ever said THEY represent ALL womanhood?

"What surprises me, though, is that men, who are supposed to be so far-minded and capable of judging, are so utterly unable or unwilling to do so in this case.

Senog Pushed Around
As Men Preserve Their Ego

"After reading how some wealthy girl for a thrill enters the channel or guides an airplane or opens a deluxe salon of some kind, they smooth out their innards and by pushing the shop girls and stenographers out of the way, and get a measure of satisfaction in the knowledge that, after all, they did succeed in getting the subway seat first—and holding it tight all the way into town!

"Men—wake up! Don't act like little boys. Just because some woman in a class utterly foreign to your world gets your goat, don't let it out on your wife or your neighbor's daughter. Yes, it is, after all, only bravely trying to relieve her father or brother (or perhaps in the long run indirectly even yourself) of the 'good-old-times' job of supporting her!"

FEUD Blamed in DOG ROW

WABAN CLASH FACES COURT

Residents of the ultra exclusive Windsor road section, Waban, today were looking forward to a hearing in Newton court Tuesday which is expected to settle both a neighborhood feud and a dog fight.

The dogs according to a report on file today, took up where the neighbors left off.

London, E. Carter of 214 Windsor road, an assistant treasurer of a Newham firm, is the complainant. Linda E. Carter of 136 Windsor road, a former newspaper publisher of Indiana, is the defendant charged with keeping and harboring a bull, barking and howling dogs.

Carter charges that the Carters' dog, a black and white pointer, was kept in a kennel in the basement of the house, and that it was used to bark and howl in a way that caused a great deal of trouble to the neighborhood.

Mr. Carter and his wife, however, claim that the dog was a couple of years old.

"Why, I had to laugh when I heard of it," she declared. "This is really a 'bitch'." One would think this was a mountainous neighborhood, the way people carry on.

"It all started three years ago when we moved here," she added cryptically, "and wouldn't you know what people wanted us to do."

It was predicted that a goodly number of Windsor road residents will be in court Tuesday for the showdown.

GIRL ABOUT TOWN

By
Marjorie McBride

To the average young woman, if she thinks of it at all, teaching occupational therapy in a hospital for mental patients must seem pretty depressing.

To Miss Ethel Anderson, who does just that in Boston State Hospital in Mattapan, it is an interesting and inspiring career.

Her job is to train the minds of the patients so full of mental illness, to make them into normal people. It is a job that requires a great deal of patience and understanding.

Efficiency Even There

Wine 'Promotion', Too

In fact, when a patient becomes efficient in his work, he is given a reward. This is a way of encouraging them to work harder.

Now in her seventh year, Miss Anderson finds it more fascinating than ever. She enjoys in the men and women who have been cured, but her mind is mostly on those who are still in need.

Yanks Test Sox Strength Next Week

(By Associated Press)

That big money that Tom Yawkey has been waiting for is about to come. In fact, it is about to come in the form of a test of the Sox's strength. The Sox will meet the Yankees in a series of three games at Yankee Stadium next week. The Sox have been playing well lately, and the Yankees have been playing poorly. This series will be a good test of the Sox's strength.

MAK PLAYERS BIG HELP

Big guns in this drive that has shaken the Sox to a spot where they are flailing with second place have been four of Connie Mack's fancy-priced athletes—McNair, Jimmy Fox and Plunkie Higgins with their bats and glove. They have been helping the Sox in their drive to second place.

NEARING TOP

They made it three straight over the ribs yesterday with a doubleheader win, 4-3 and 5-3. Fox belted homers Nos. 27 and 28. This two-way win from the Sox's back of the second place. The Sox have been playing well lately, and the Yankees have been playing poorly. This series will be a good test of the Sox's strength.

COLLEGIATE TINGE TO HEARST REGATTA

By Associated Press

That collegians play a most conspicuous part in the success of outboard motor regatta of today is shown by the entry list in this year's annual Hearst Regatta, which will be held on the Charles River Saturday and Sunday of this week.

The entry list for the regatta is a Who's Who of intercollegiate pilots. Included are such noted races as James W. Mullin Jr., Princeton's champion, and Robert C. Howland of Williams and Mary. Movement To Share Profits

By B. C. FORBES
Should employees share profits?
Does this action by one company preclude a share movement in the same direction?

The Atlas Life Insurance Company, with headquarters in Tulsa, Okla., has passed these resolutions:
First, a cumulative dividend of $1 per share annually is to be paid.
Second, the remainder of all distributable funds shall be equally divided, one-half to stockholders and one-half to employees and consolidation agents.

A limited number of companies already share profits with their employees. Among them are Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing, General Electric, Procter & Gamble, Fairbanks, Morse, Eastman Johnson, Eastman Kodak, Sears Roebuck, Cleveland Trust, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and others. The company's stockholders are to be paid a dividend of $1 per share annually, and the remainder of the profits is to be divided equally between the stockholders and the employees.

But when the market value of the stock is high, the company's stockholders are to be paid a dividend of $1 per share annually, and the remainder of the profits is to be divided equally between the stockholders and the employees.

But when the market value of the stock is low, the company's stockholders are to be paid a dividend of $1 per share annually, and the remainder of the profits is to be divided equally between the stockholders and the employees.

Lacking PUNCH

PRICE TREND IRREGULAR
New York, Aug. 5.—Except for a few specialties, punch was lacking in today's stock market. Activity was below that of the preceding session and prices were well shuffled.

Stocks were fairly resistant on the day of the wage settlement with industrial stocks most shifted after a moderate uptick in the afternoon.

Secondary rail bonds tilted forward. Commodities pointed upward. Steel, Motors Off Siding tendencies exhibited by stocks and motors was a fly in the ointment. A handful of utilities and copper did a bit better.

Farm Income Rising; Outlook Good

By MERVILLE STANLEY RUKESYER
New York, Aug. 5.—American farmers anticipate the biggest stimulus from farm purchases since 1929. As the harvesting season approaches, a combination of crop prospects at home and abroad presages a further substantial rise in farm income in the United States.

I asked an agricultural expert for the farmers—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation with headquarters at Chicago—what he thought the significance was of the present economic position of farm income in rural areas.

"The near-term prospects for farm income in the United States," O'Neal replied, "are exceptionally good."
Consequently, the outlook for farm income in the United States is excellent, better than they have been since 1929. For the first time in seven years, we have a combination of good crops and good prices, a situation that the net farm income will come within 10 percent of the 1929 farm income figure.

"I believe we will see greater farm income in the United States at any time in the last few years. For the first time in seven years we have an exportable surplus of wheat, and Europe will buy it. I am not so sure about the cotton exports will be, but I believe they will be up to the level of recent years."

A number of good crops, better prices, a reduction in fixed charges of interest rates, etc., have all combined to contribute to the economic position of the farmer. In some sections of the country he is in better shape than he has been since 1913.

I think the outlook in the catalogue business, which is directly affected by farm income, is excellent for this fall."

Masonry Joins Crusade

TO THE nationwide crusade directed against Communism and subversive propaganda by the American Legion, the Knights of Columbus, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Elks, Legion of Valor and other groups, has now been added the powerful support of Masonry.

By a resolution adopted at the grand encampment in Miami, Florida, the Knights Templar unsparringly denounce Communism as being "in irreconcilable conflict" with the principles of AMERICANISM, enlisting themselves TO COMBAT IT. "Communism," the resolution sets forth, "advocates the ABOLITION of all ordered and constitutional government, private property, inheritance, the family and incidentally marriage and all orthodox morality, patriotism and religion and COMPELS hatred of God and of ALL religious forces."

It advocates instead, the resolution further states, "the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat with headquarters at Moscow, and as one means of accomplishing these foul purposes indulges in REVOLUTIONARY PROPAGANDA, practices CRIMINAL SYNDICALISM, causes STRIKES, RIOTS, SABOTAGE, BLOODSHED and CIVIL WAR."

Recognizing this Red menace, which would destroy Christian civilization, American democracy and DEBASE ALL MANKIND, the Knights Templar call "upon all Masons throughout the world, by all effective and lawful means, to COMBAT IT WHEREVER AND HOWEVER IT MANIFESTS ITSELF."

THE resolution expresses THE DUTY OF EVERY TRUE CITIZEN IN AMERICA.

No system of government ever created by man has produced the benefits which have come from AMERICAN DEMOCRACY.

Its greatest enemy is the Red plague of COMMUNISM—spawned and spread from Moscow.

The concern of our patriotic organizations over its sinister inroads, its vicious propaganda and their widening crusade for American loyalty, present an encouraging guarantee that Communism will be thrust from our doors.

Finding a Cancer Cure

THE valiant battle of the "Veterans" Administration against cancer interests everyone, former soldiers especially.

At the Administration's six clinics in various parts of the country, a ceaseless war is waged to find the cause and cure of the dread malady.

This is as it should be. With the in every ten persons doomed by statistics to die of cancer, neither effort nor money should be spared until the fight is won.

However—and much to the regret of New England—no large veterans' cancer hospital is maintained here. The nearest is New York's. Most certainly should the Veterans Administration consider Boston.

Our doctors, pioneers in the discovery of other, in the use of liver in treating anemia, and in so many other medical and surgical fields, ought to be enrolled in this cancer war.

The Cape Has Company

IF there's truth in the statement that misery likes company, Cape Cod should be reasonably happy.

Fifty-three cities, according to the American Municipal Association, there is trailer camp worships. All have governing the use of "houses on wheels" and regulating their period of stay.

The Town of Dennis still holds the record, however. Its 90-day-stop limit is the briefest in the nation, while Ocean City, N. J., permitting a visit of 120 days, is the most lenient.

Unquestionably, the trailer problem is very much a reality. All communities must eventually face it.

The vast majority of people who can afford to own a car have money to spend, and consequently, are worthwhile guests in any city.

A minority are motorized squatters who threaten to add to the already heavy burdens of municipal relief. No one wants them.

Yet—and it is significant—the good doctor would not rely solely on his own opinion. He sought and obtained the advice of an internationally famous child specialist. He would not take chances.

There is something about Dr. Dafeo that commands him to everybody. For in the face of an achievement that would have swollen the head of a lesser man, he remains the old and kindly self—a truly lovable person.

"The Man Who Remembers"

HUSBANDS of America gave a vote of gratitude to John F. G. Eichorn of Jamaica Plain, the "man who remembers."

When his wife, Hazel, was unable to recall her wedding date in Salem Court, John had the information on the tip of his tongue.

"June 2, 1923," he volunteered from the rear of the room, and his wife beamed appreciation.

When Size Doesn't Count

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

New York, Aug. 5.—There has always been a fascination for me about pitch men who hawk wares from their little vans on tri-plexes along the curbs. They are heavier like in their industry, working from early in the morning to late in the afternoon, and although their rewards are comparatively slight.

They are the last of the street venders, the last of the old-fashioned hawkers, the last of the old-fashioned hawkers.

ARE THE OLD AGE PENSIONERS THEY ARE INNOCENT?

They haven't done anything wrong. But they are the only people who suffer when pension funds are cut in half.

If the State's administration of the pension system is slow and inefficient, there certainly should be some way to correct that.
